

2023 Emerging Scholars Application

The Community Banking Research Conference Committee is pleased to announce the ninth annual Emerging Scholars Program for its research and policy conference, to be held Oct. 4-5, 2023, at the Federal Reserve Bank of St. Louis.

This program will provide up to three selected applicants the opportunity to attend the 2023 conference with travel and lodging provided by the Conference of State Bank Supervisors. This is designed to offer Ph.D. students, who are considering or working on a dissertation on a banking-related topic, the opportunity to hear presentations and discussions on the latest community banking research and to interact with the researchers, regulators and community bankers who are in attendance at the conference.

To be considered for this year's program, complete the application below and email it by June 16, 2023, to conference@communitybanking.org. Please note you must provide the name and contact information for the university faculty sponsor who is supporting your application. Selected applicants will be notified by July 12, 2023.

1. Applicant Name:

2. Contact Information:

Email Address:

Phone Number:

3. Current Education Summary:

Expected Year of PhD:

University:

Field of Study:

Advisors/Dissertation Committee (if applicable):

4. Prior Education Summary:

Degree; Field of Study; University:

Degree; Field of Study; University:

5. Faculty Sponsor:

Name:

Email Address:

Phone Number:

Community Banking Research Conference

Where Research and Policy Meet

6. In the space below, please describe your current research projects, your interest in community banking, and how your attendance at this conference would be beneficial to your research agenda. (1,500 word maximum)